A PROPOSAL FOR GRAN MELIÁ DUBAI JUMEIRAH

A Collection for Gran Meliá Dubai

Two Waters — Dutch light meets the Gulf

A concept for a new seafront landmark at Port de La Mer: the reflected light of Dutch water meets the light of the Gulf.

DELFT FLOW — GALLERY DUTCH ART

01 — THE OPPORTUNITY

Where Dutch light meets the Gulf.

Gran Meliá Dubai Jumeirah opens on the seafront at Port de La Mer with 380 rooms and suites and event space for up to a thousand guests. At that scale, art does its best work as a recognisable signature: a collection guests associate with the hotel, carried through rooms, suites and events. We propose one built on a simple, beautiful parallel: the reflected light of Dutch water and the light of the Gulf.

01

Water and light

The sea is the hotel's protagonist; the art can echo it in every space.

02

Scale with identity

380 rooms and suites need one coherent language, not 380 decorations.

03

Events as a stage

Screens and walls in the event spaces can carry art that changes per occasion.

AT A GLANCE

LOCATION

Port de La Mer, Jumeirah, directly on the seafront

BRAND

Meliá Hotels International's first Gran Meliá in Dubai

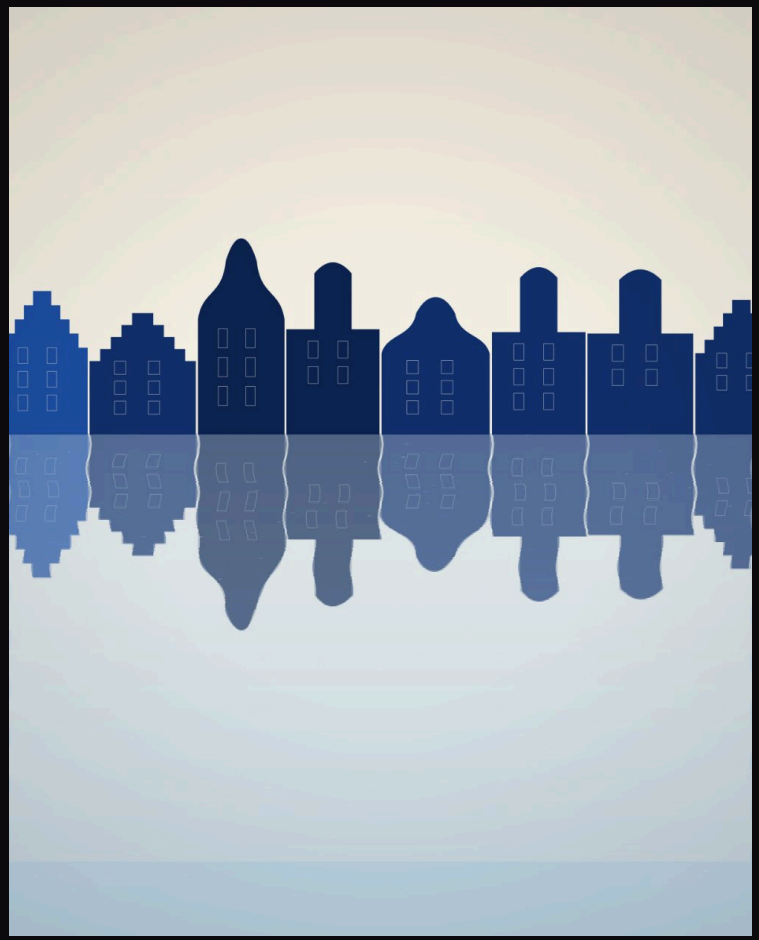

SCALE

380 rooms and suites; restaurants, bars, pools, spa and event space for up to 1,000 guests

EXPECTED OPENING

Late 2026, according to the most recent reports

Based on public announcements, November 2026. Details may have changed since.

02 — THE CONCEPT

Two Waters

DUTCH LIGHT MEETS THE GULF

Two Waters connects the canals of Amsterdam with the Gulf coast outside the hotel's windows. Reflections, horizons and the gold of evening light run through every piece, from a signature pair at the arrival to a numbered room series and Living Paintings that can be programmed for events and seasons. A suite collection of originals offers the most exclusive guests a piece of Dutch art they will remember.

01 Reflections
Water and mirrored light as the common thread in every space.

02 One collection, 380 rooms
A numbered room series in one palette, produced and certified to a five-star standard.

03 Programmable art for events
Living Paintings for event spaces and screens, curated for each occasion.
